“We’re proud to continue to invest in the Lehigh Valley and enhance our presence in the communities we serve and where our employees live, work, and play. Our new corporate headquarters allows us to offer an exceptional work environment for our growing workforce. 2020 was an extraordinary year for many reasons. While maintaining continuous business operations throughout COVID-19, we built and opened our new corporate headquarters, our Trexlerstown Financial Center featuring our first dedicated small business center, and our first urban location in Downtown Allentown. We kept our employees safe and engaged by offering the option of flexible schedules and remote working to help balance new demands of work and home. Our projects also contributed to the local economy with local design and construction partners and services whenever possible to provide new jobs in our thriving community,” said Donna LoStocco, President and Chief Executive Officer of First Commonwealth.

FCFCU’s new headquarters was designed and built to be a high functioning, friendly, and safe environment that offers an enjoyable and healthy ‘home at work’ experience for its 220 employees. The facility will accommodate the company’s ongoing growth and includes enhanced health and safety features. “We’re thrilled to be part of the growing and thriving Lower Macungie community and bring this beautiful and highly functional new headquarters to our employees. Our project is unique in that every aspect of our new headquarters came from input from our employees. We wanted the facility to be ‘for employees, by employees’ and that’s the approach we took through every phase of the project to bring our mission, vision, and core values to life. Our cross-functional HQ Steering Team guided every aspect including site selection, floorplan design, interior design, materials selection, furniture selection, construction, branding, meeting room naming, and amenities such as selection of gym equipment, patio workspace features, and even the free coffee, tea, and hot chocolate flavors in our cafés. With construction well underway at the onset of COVID-19, our exceptional team members and design and construction partners found creative solutions to every challenge and worked tirelessly to deliver our new corporate headquarters on time and in a safe and healthy environment,” said Tricia Szurgot, Chief Operating Officer of First Commonwealth and Executive Project Lead.
