eDOC and CU-Centric Complete eSign Integration Project

MIDDLEBURY, VT – February 8, 2021

eDOC Innovations, a Credit Union Service Organization specializing in mobile enterprise digital transaction management, announced the completion and rollout of an eSignature integration for CU-Centric credit union clients.

CU-Centric, a Managed Application and Network Services company based in Columbus, Ohio, provides an in-house core data processing business solution for credit unions. The system offers a non-toxic core product line that enhances both the credit union employee and member experience.

“eDOC’s eDOCSignature® solution paired with our core product offers a competitive electronic document solution to our clients,” said Brian Kehlmeier, Director of Client Operations at CU-Centric. “This feature-rich solution addresses credit unions’ often challenging efforts to offer secure, on-the-go solutions at a great value regardless of that credit union’s size. Considering the rising need for secure remote document signing, our integration is seen as an attractive option to most of our clients,” said Kehlmeier.

“CU-Centric and eDOC share a passion for helping our mutual clients provide mobile conveniences through technology that, up to now, were available only to larger institutions. Our collaboration helps dispel the myth that credit unions are old-fashioned and averse to technological advancement,” said Mark Fierro, CEO of eDOC Innovations. “We are pleased to have CU-Centric as a partner who’s equally as committed to providing value back to credit unions and their members through deeply integrated digital workflows.”
