Dallas, TX – Registration is now open for ALM First's 2026 Derivatives Symposium—a premier in-person mini-conference designed for treasury and risk professionals to deepen their understanding of derivatives programs and explore cutting-edge strategies for managing interest rate risk and enhancing financial performance.

The event will be held June 8 – 9, 2026 at the Hotel Vin in Grapevine, Texas, conveniently located just minutes from Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) airport.

“The Derivatives Symposium was designed to deliver professional education in a timely and highly actionable manner,” says Alec Hollis, CFA, Principal, ALM First. “For more than 30 years, ALM First has been proactively seeking new ways to meet our clients’ most pressing needs. We’re pleased to offer this unique event as more financial institutions seek comprehensive hedging and derivative solutions to help them manage interest rate risk.”

Attendees will gain practical insights into navigating market volatility, optimizing risk management frameworks, and aligning hedging activities with regulatory requirements. Designed for a variety of roles, including finance professionals, risk managers, accounting experts and more, this session will equip attendees with the knowledge and tools needed to implement effective hedging strategies in today’s dynamic financial landscape.

The 2026 Derivatives Symposium will have attendance limits to foster meaningful engagement. Each institution may register up to 2 attendees. For questions, please reach out to events@almfirst.com.
