eDOC Spreads Holiday Cheer

Middlebury, VT – December 16, 2024 – The eDOC Team demonstrated their commitment to community and generosity this holiday season by providing gifts for 22 local children and a family in Addison County, Vermont. These thoughtful contributions were part of an ongoing effort to spread joy and support those in need during the festive period. The team collaborated to ensure that each child and family member received meaningful and personalized gifts, making the holidays a bit brighter for those they assisted. Such initiatives underscore the team's dedication to making a positive impact in the local community.

"Christmas season should be a time of joy, particularly for the children. We all know that there are many families who are struggling to provide for their daily needs. And in these circumstances, it is the children that usually feel it keenly as they often go without especially on Christmas eve," commented Jody Snow, VP of Administration at eDOC. "And while we cannot provide to all children, we can at least share a bit of joy to some in our local community. This is an annual tradition the team engages in wholeheartedly and often anonymously."
